About CHADO (THE WAY OF TEA)

CHADO is one of Japan's many cultural traditions and a comprehensive cultural practice that embraces the arts, religion, philosophy, and social life. In the 12th century, the original form of green tea was brought to Japan from China. In the 16th century, SEN Rikyu developed the philosophical and artistic principles of Chado. Not only were they the foundations of the style of Chado as we know it today, but Chado based on them has had a profound influence on a wide spectrum of Japan's traditions. Harmony and peacefulness lie at the heart of Chado, and Dr. Genshitsu SEN — the 15th-generation descendant of SEN Rikyu and eminent former Grand Master of the Urasenke tradition of Chado — has, as his key lifework, been campaigning for world peace by promoting "Peacefulness through a bowl of tea." Through this, Chado has gained followers around the world.
